

Pinnannousu by Jussi Angesleva Wins Gold in A' Installation Design Awards

Jussi Angesleva's Robotic Ice Sculpture Performance Pinnannousu Recognized for Excellence in Installation Design

COMO, CO, ITALY, June 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly prestigious and well-recognized award in the field of installation design, has announced Pinnannousu by Jussi Angesleva as the recipient of the Gold A' Design Award in the Installation Design category. This remarkable achievement highlights the exceptional quality and innovation of Pinnannousu, a robotic ice sculpture performance that stands out as a groundbreaking work in the field of installation design.

Pinnannousu's recognition by the A' Design Award underscores its relevance and impact within the installation industry. By seamlessly integrating advanced technologies such as industrial robotics and computational design, Pinnannousu pushes the boundaries of what is possible in installation art. This award not only validates the innovative approach taken by Jussi Angesleva but also serves as an inspiration for designers and artists worldwide to explore new frontiers in interactive and immersive installations.

Pinnannousu is a captivating installation that combines the ephemeral beauty of melting ice with the precision of robotic technology. An industrial robot equipped with a drill and flashlight meticulously carves a large ice block into a computational lens, which refracts a spotlight to project the ominous warning "+2â??" on the wall. This thought-provoking juxtaposition of high-tech optimism and the urgent metaphorical message of climate change creates a powerful and immersive experience for viewers.
