VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA,
CANADA, June 28, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global Medical Tourism Market size was USD 93.27 Billion in 2022 and is expected to register a revenue CAGR of 10.7% during the forecast period. Increasing exorbitant expenses associated with medical treatments in developed countries, rising prevalence of various chronic diseases, limited insurance coverage in some countries draws patients to medical tourism, extended waiting periods experienced in developed countries, and increasing adherence to international quality standards are some of the key factors driving market revenue growth

The global medical tourism market has been witnessing substantial growth in recent years, driven by a convergence of factors that include cost-effective treatments, advanced medical technologies, and increasing globalization of healthcare services. Medical tourism involves individuals traveling across borders to receive medical treatment, often at lower costs or with higher availability of specialized procedures compared to their home countries. This industry encompasses a wide range of medical services, from cosmetic surgeries and dental treatments to complex procedures like cardiac surgeries and organ transplants.

Leading companies looking for new revenue streams will find this research very helpful in understanding the market and its underlying dynamics. It is useful for companies looking to diversify into new markets or expand their current scope of operations.
