Exposure One believes that "a black and white palette is where the medium of photography comes to life." Their goal is "to celebrate the timeless, eternal nature of the monochrome image through the vivid photography of our global community."

“

I love the challenge of monochromatic photography for the constraints that it imposes, forcing me to challenge my creativity.”

According to the organizers of the One Shot Photo Contest, “The images that rose to the top enrich our experience of the world by helping us see through others' eyes - or by sharing something new and unexpected. From the frontlines of war, to images stretching the boundary of what a photograph can be, these images inspire, delight, and dare.”

Photographer Maria Marriott received the following honors at the 2024 One Shot Photo Contest:

Gold Minimalism "Calla Lily"

Silver Abstract "Calla Lily"

Bronze Domestic Animals "Gatsby II"

People's Vote Award Abstract "Calla Lily"

Marriott commented on her recognition, "It is such an honor for my work to be recognized among so many talented photographers. I love the challenge of monochromatic photography for the constraints that it imposes, forcing me to challenge my creativity. The textures, lines and composition of the images become essential. Without the distraction of color, you get to the raw emotion and essence of the subject."
