

Pest Solution Services Launches Expanded Blog Section to Help Homeowners Learn More About Bed Bugs and How to Fix the Issue

Toronto, ON – Pest Solution Services, an award-winning pest control company specialising in lasting bed bug removal, is thrilled to announce the launch of its expanded blog section that is designed to provide homeowners with expert research and advice on bed bugs, as well as how to efficiently fix the issue.

The leading Toronto pest control company's expanded blog leverages its team's extensive expertise in bed bug pest control to offer curated advice for homeowners to help them keep their families safe during an infestation, provide information on the rate the pests can spread, how to complete a reliable mattress check and shares the essential prevention tips.

"In bustling Canadian cities like Toronto, the dense population and high turnover in apartment complexes can lead to unwelcome guests: bed bugs," said a spokesperson for Pest Solution Services. "These tiny pests are a growing concern, making it crucial for residents to adopt proactive measures to prevent home infestations. Our new blog provides homeowners with essential guides and information to help them find long-term relief from bed bugs."

Pest Solution Services has completed 13 years of operation, and with its expert team led by an entomologist boasting more than 30 years of experience in Canadian and international pest control, it has become one of the most established Toronto-based pest control businesses. Renowned for offering effective solutions and support for every bed bug job, Pest Solution Services has earned an impressive reputation for its client-centric focus, which is showcased by being awarded the "Best Of" award 9 years in a row by top review company Home Stars for upholding positive client satisfaction for bed bug extermination in Toronto and the Greater Toronto Area.

Pest Solution Services delivers customized pest solutions that are uniquely tailored to each job to provide homeowners with comprehensive and long-lasting results through delivering a thorough inspection process, expertise paired with integrity, effective and diverse methods of extermination, excellent communication skills and ongoing educative support to reduce the risk of future infestations.

"Our bed bug treatment options are customized and designed to get rid of your bed bugs completely. There's a reason why we maintain a 9.9/10 average customer reviews on HomeStars: we make sure the bed bugs are gone and don't come back," furthered the spokesperson for Pest Solution Services.

The highly rated pest control company encourages homeowners interested in learning more about bed bugs, what can be done to fix the issue, or how to stay safe during an infestation to read its comprehensive blog on the Pest Solution Services website today.
