

ECO ENGINEERING & AUTOMATION awarded the 7th fastest-growing company in the Americas by the Financial Times

LAKE ELMO, MN, UNITED STATES, July 8, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ECO ENGINEERING & AUTOMATION (formerly ECOBCG) has recently been awarded the 7th fastest-growing company in the Americas by the Financial Times in its ranking of the 500 fastest-growing companies in 2024. This achievement is a testament to the company's commitment to customers and partners.

The company's aggressive growth rate over the past three years has merited a spot in the top 10 fastest-growing companies in the Americas. This results from its core strategy of providing best-in-class engineering and automation services that aim to integrate sustainability best practices in manufacturing environments.

Sergio Castillo, CEO, expressed his gratitude for the recognition: "We are honored to be awarded the 7th fastest-growing company in the Americas by the Financial Times. This achievement is a recognition of our team's hard work and dedication. We are proud to be at the forefront of the industry and will continue to drive towards our goal of being a global leader in sustainable engineering."

ECO ENGINEERING & AUTOMATION provides services that include sustainability strategy design, utility baseline and energy mass balance studies, ASHRAE-level energy audits, engineering, project management, automation, procurement, installation, commissioning, and ongoing support. The company's customer base is primarily composed of Fortune 500 manufacturing leaders within their industry.
