

American Equine Awareness Reminds Pet-owners to Keep Their Pets Safe this 4th of July

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, July 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The 4th of July is a time for celebration and patriotism. It can also be a stressful and dangerous time for family pets and other animals. Strive to keep animals safe and comfortable.

Animal shelters see an increase in lost pets during the week of the 4th of July. Make sure pets are wearing proper identification in case they happen to get lost during holiday events. They will be more protected by wearing a collar with identification tags or a microchip. It's also a good to have a recent photo of your pet on hand in case you need to make a lost pet flyer.

As people celebrate freedom and independence today, don't forget about the safety and well-being of animal family members. Atlanta News First published this helpful CNN article, How to keep pets safe over the Fourth of July weekend. The news piece provides tips to help people keep their four legged family members safe during fireworks.

Have a safe and happy 4th of July!

American Equine Awareness provided this news piece.

Donna Brorein

American Equine Awareness

+1 770-870-7589

email us here

---

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/725168043>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.