Musawer Begana Human rights activist and founder of Womanpost Approached Federal Minister Annalena Baerbock with their joint letter, which highlighted Baerbock's 2022 statement describing the situation in Afghanistan as "the biggest violation of women's rights on Earth."

Afghanistan Experiencing
'Biggest Violation Of Rights
On Earth”

Annalena Baerbock

The appeal urges the Foreign Minister to act for her commitment to gender equality using Important legal principles of Feminist Foreign Policy (FFP)

The appeal references a recent report by Special Rapporteur Richard Bennett, released in June 2024, which details the extensive gender-based discrimination and oppression faced by Afghan women and girls. This oppression includes severe restrictions on education, employment, freedom of movement, healthcare, and access to justice, which WomanPost argues constitutes a framework of gender apartheid.

The Key Appeals By Woman Post:

- Declare Afghanistan a Gender Apartheid State: Officially recognize the systemic gender-based discrimination and oppression in Afghanistan as gender apartheid. This acknowledgment would bring global attention to the severity of the situation and pave the way for more international interventions.

- Implement Feminist Foreign Policy Guidelines to drive international efforts aimed at addressing the crisis. This includes leveraging Germany's influence to mobilize European and global action against gender-based oppression.

- Promote International Justice and Accountability: Support Womanpost's Mission for international legal frameworks, such as the Beijing Declaration, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), and UN Security Council Resolution 1325 on Women, Peace, and Security, to hold accountability on anti-human actions.

Principle Context of Feminist Foreign Policy used :

Feminist Foreign Policy is a policy framework tailored to address contemporary issues and advance gender equality and women's human rights.

FFP Principle: Feminist Foreign Policy emphasizes putting gender equality and human rights at the center of international diplomacy.

Woman Post Application: WomanPost uses FFP principles to argue that gender-based oppression faced by Afghanistan women and girls is an "Inhumane Act" and violates international law. WomanPost's call for Baerbock to act on Afghanistan aligns with FFP's focus on addressing severe gender-based oppression as a diplomatic priority.

FFP Principle: Feminist Foreign Policy aligns with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and involves tackling both the violence women face and the underlying structural inequalities.
