FEDERAL HEIGHTS, COLORADO,
UNITED STATES, July 9, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- As a continuing effort to heighten the park's commitment to providing a welcoming environment for autistic and sensory-sensitive guests, Water World renews its Certified Autism Center™ (CAC) status. Initial certification in this designation involved specialized training and certification focused on enhancing communication and engagement with guests who have sensory needs and their families.

The Certified Autism Center™ training through IBCCES is an important part of that commitment, giving our staff the tools they need to better understand and serve autistic individuals & their families.”

Yvonne Fischbach, executive director of Hyland Hills Parks and Recreation

“Water World prides itself on being a fun and welcoming place for every guest, every time. The Certified Autism Center™ training through IBCCES is an important part of that commitment, giving our staff the tools they need to better understand and serve autistic individuals and their families,” says Yvonne Fischbach, executive director of Hyland Hills Parks and Recreation, which owns and operates Water World.

In addition to the training and certification, the park provides sensory guides to help guests plan their visits and a sensory room, which offers a quiet place in the park for anyone who is experiencing sensory overload or needs a calm place to relax and recharge. The water park also invites guests to utilize the free Attraction Access Pass (AAP) to ease navigating the park and waiting times for rides.

“IBCCES is honored to recognize Water World’s commitment to accessibility in becoming a Certified Autism Center™,” shares Myron Pincomb, IBCCES board chairman. “Initially certified in 2020, this recertification showcases their dedication to creating an environment where every guest will feel safe, welcome and included when visiting the park.”

For more than 20 years, IBCCES has been a leader in cognitive disorder training and certification, serving various sectors globally. Their programs are known for integrating evidence-based content with the perspectives of autistic individuals, and they offer various resources, ongoing support, and renewal requirements to promote continuous learning and long-term impact.

IBCCES also created AutismTravel.com, a free online resource for families looking for certified locations and professionals. Organizations listed on the site have met the criteria to be recognized as a Certified Autism Center™ (CAC).
