About "How Many Days":

"How Many Days" tells the story of a little boy named Jack. Jack is 7 years old, has autism, and is fascinated by numbers. He frequently asks his mother questions like, "How many days till my birthday?" or "How many days till Christmas?" One evening, as his mother Vanessa (a friend of Doug Mathis) was putting him to bed, Jack asked, "Mom, how many days till I go to heaven?" Vanessa shared this touching moment on Facebook, which deeply moved Doug Mathis and inspired him to write this heartfelt song.

Doug Mathis commented on the release: "This song is very close to my heart. It's about understanding and giving a voice to those who are often unheard. I'm honored to support the Vanderbilt Kennedy Center through this project and hope to inspire greater awareness and understanding of autism."
