

Steven Mayer Ranked Among the Top 3 Most Successful Amazon Business Consultants in the United States

MIAMI, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, July 13, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Steven Mayer, CEO of SJM Consultants, LLC, and a top Amazon consultant, is now ranked among the top three most successful Amazon business consultants. He was once working 9-5 with a dream to gain financial freedom. He was taught, like so many others, that the way to succeed in life was to go to college and then settle into a job. Mayer yearned for a better life and read "Rich Dad Poor Dad" by Robert Kiyosaki. Then, he met a friend who was making over $300,000 per month on Amazon with just 15 hours of work per week. Mayer's life was forever changed.

Mayer began selling on Amazon in 2014. His first endeavors in Amazon selling weren't successful, but after learning new product research strategies, his sales began to skyrocket. In his second year, Mayer earned more than $200,000.

Then, Mayer started helping others. Seven years later, he sold his Amazon business for seven figures and turned to teaching others how to model his success. He launched a course to help others while also debuting an Amazon management company for handling the "heavy lifting" for clients. Together, these services have provided countless Amazon sellers with the tools they need for real, sustainable success. Mayer is now ranked among the top three most successful Amazon business consultants in the United States.

There are approximately 9.5 million Amazon sellers around the world. Standing out among such competition isn't easy, but with the tools and strategies offered by Mayer, Amazon clients including small and medium sized businesses of virtually all niches can gain the traction they need to succeed on Amazon. When people want to be successful on Amazon, it's Mayer that they turn to.

“I believe that effective management is essential for any business looking to scale successfully,” said Mayer. “By streamlining operations and focusing on strategic growth, we can drive innovation and achieve remarkable results. My goal is to help businesses harness the power of expert consultancy to reach their full potential while maintaining a healthy work-life balance.”
