“

Our goal with this new website was to represent more accurately the broad range of services we offer and provide multiple entry points for new clients to give us a try.”

Steve Pilon

- Custom Web Design & Development: Creating meticulously crafted and highly functional WordPress websites tailored to the unique personality and needs of each client.
- E-commerce Solutions: Developing robust e-commerce platforms that drive sales and enhance customer experiences.

- Digital Marketing: Offering a full suite of digital marketing services, including holistic SEO services, PPC, social media marketing, and content strategy.

- 3D Product Renderings: Creating custom 3D renderings and animations that offer a cost-effective, and visually captivating way to showcase products online.
- UX Design & Analysis: Crafting intuitive and engaging user experiences with a high priority on ease of use and intuitive navigation. Plus, UX audit services that are perfect for businesses looking to optimize their existing websites without a full redesign.

“At our core, we’ve always been a full-service WordPress and WooCommerce agency,” said Steve Pilon, the founder of Code18 Interactive. “But as we grew and evolved, website design became only one part of what we do from day to day. Our goal with this new website was to represent more accurately the broad range of services we offer and provide multiple entry points for new clients to give us a try.”

In addition to the new menu of service offerings, the website also features an extensive portfolio showcasing the agency’s recent projects and detailed case studies highlighting Code18 Interactive’s expertise and success in crafting beautiful user-friendly websites that lead to transformative growth.
