

Bora Jasa Crowned Ms. Nevada United States 2024, Advocating for Children's Mental Health

Korean-American Actress and Model Elevates Mental Health Awareness Through Her Platform and Children's Book

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA, July 17, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Bora Jasa, a Southern California resident with a storied career in acting and modeling, has been officially crowned Ms. Nevada United States 2024. Jasa, who has starred in national commercials and print ads for major brands like Citibank and Amazon, and played pivotal roles in network hits such as CBS's "S.W.A.T." and ABC's "Castle," is set to use her dual state presence to Raised in California and now representing Nevada, a state significant to her due to her brother's service at Nellis Air Force Base, Jasa is determined to use her title to make a substantial impact. Her advocacy is deeply personal, rooted in her own childhood experiences of overcoming abuse, violence, and poverty. These challenges have driven her to champion the importance of self-esteem and mental well-being from a young age.

Photo by Emily Sandifer

Her commitment to this cause is highlighted by her authorship of "The Ugly Lobster," a children's book aimed at nurturing self-esteem which will be released in late August. Jasa will donate copies of her book to classrooms across California and Nevada, and to the non-profit organization, A Place Called Home, which helps disadvantaged youths achieve success.

"As Ms. Nevada United States, I have the opportunity to further my advocacy for children's mental health, a cause that is not only close to my heart but essential for our future," said Jasa. "I believe that instilling strong self-esteem early in life can profoundly influence a child's ability to handle life's challenges and maintain mental health."

Bora Jasa will be a featured storyteller reading "The Ugly Lobster" at the Los Angeles Kids Book Festival on September 8, from 9:30 am to 4:30 pm at West Hollywood Park. Additionally, Bora Jasa is also available for appearances and interviews, seeking to leverage media and print exposure to extend the reach of her book and message to a broader community. Her efforts aim to get her empowering literature into more classrooms and homes in California and Nevada.

Jasa is also preparing to compete for the title of Ms. Woman United States in Memphis, Tennessee, in October 2024, where she plans to continue promoting her platform on a national stage.

To contact Bora Jasa for more information, appearances, and interviews, visit her website at <https://www.borajasa.com/> or send an email to MsNevadaUnitedStates@gmail.com. advocate for children's mental health.

Rachel Harris
Pulse Media
+1 888-888-8888
email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/728317859>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.