

Klink Finance Partners with XVC Tech To Accelerate Growth for dApps and Tokens on XDC Network

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, July 23, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Klink Finance has recently announced a long-term strategic partnership with XVC Tech, XDC Network & its ecosystem, aimed at fostering regular channel collaborations to accelerate growth for dApps and tokens deployed on the XDC network.

This collaboration underscores our commitment to advancing wealth creation opportunities and delivering enhanced value to the Klink community"

Chris James Murphy, Co-Founder Klink Finance

Investment & collaboration:

The Klink service model supports the XDC ecosystem by enabling projects to list tokens for swaps, holdings, and yield earnings while participating in investment-led action quests to boost volume and new long-term holders on top of the native chain.

Klink's platform also provides access to XDC yield generation, fostering long-term TVL through fixed interest and prize pool rewards. Additionally, XDC projects gain long-term user growth through exposure via Klink affiliate services, driving low CAC user acquisition via its proprietary web3 offer wall and quest services, converting community members into active long-term project users.

Quote from Mr Atul Khekade, co-founder - XDC Network:

"We are happy to join on the cap table of Klink Finance alongside prominent co-investors like UOB Ventures (backed by UOB Bank - one of the most renowned financial institutions in the world), Blockchain Founders Fund, Master Ventures, Signum Capital, Castrum Capital, Trive Ventures and Taisu Ventures. Being a front facing personal finance app that incentivises users with rewards, Klink Finance will onboard hundreds of thousands of users to XDC Network ecosystem. With appealing features, UI and tech for GenZ users, we believe that Klink Finance will be a major success story that upgrades user experience from web2 to web3."

Quote from Mr Chris James Murphy, Co-Founder Klink Finance:
