

Submissions Open for 21st Annual Reader Views Literary Awards: Indie Authors Welcome

The annual competition offers recognition, cash prizes, and guaranteed book reviews for self-published and small press authors.

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, August 1, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Reader Views, a respected book review and author publicity service, announces the launch of its annual literary awards program, now entering its 21st year. This prestigious competition continues to shine a spotlight on independent authors, offering a platform for recognition in the competitive world of self-publishing.

The Reader Views Literary Awards welcome submissions from indie authors worldwide, with the stipulation that books be published in English and target North American readers. Works from major publishing houses and their affiliates are not eligible, maintaining the focus on independent voices.

The program boasts an extensive array of categories spanning both fiction and non-fiction for children and adults. Additionally, several sponsored awards offer substantial cash prizes, elevating the stakes for participants.

Sheri Hoyte, Managing Editor at Reader Views, emphasizes the crucial role of sponsors in the program's success. "Our sponsors are the backbone of this initiative," Hoyte states. "Their support has been instrumental in expanding the reach and impact of these awards."

This year's impressive roster of sponsors includes: AutoCrit, B.A. Bellec's Production Studio, Book by Book Publicity, Conversations Media Group, Marquette Fiction, Written Word Media, Women in Publishing Summit, Barefoot Librarian, First Chapter Plus, Live Write Thrive, Matthew J.

Every entry receives a thorough reading and scoring, with the additional benefit of a guaranteed review published on the Reader Views platform. The announcement of Winners and Finalists is scheduled for Spring 2025.
