

FlyOnE Supports Women in Aviation with Pilot Training Scholarships in Perth and Melbourne

According to statistics, only 5% of commercial pilots in Australia are women. FlyOnE is supporting the disruption of antiquated traditions in aviation.

MELBOURNE, VICTORIA, AUSTRALIA, July 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FlyOnE, a leading sustainable aviation company in Australia, is proud to announce its new initiative to support women in the aviation industry. The company will be offering pilot training scholarships with WAI Australia, a chapter of the internationally recognized organization, Women in Aviation International (WAI), in Perth and Melbourne to aspiring female pilots, in an effort to promote gender diversity and equality in the field.

WIA organises outreach and information events Australia wide

According to recent statistics, only 5% of commercial pilots in Australia are women. FlyOnE is supporting the disruption of antiquated traditions in the aviation sector and is committed to providing opportunities for more women to pursue careers in aviation as pilots. FlyOnE believes that by supporting and empowering women in aviation, it can help bridge the gender gap and create a more inclusive and diverse workforce.

“

We are excited to launch this program and help more women access the opportunity to pursue their passion for flying”

Korum E, Founder and CEO

Two individual pilot training scholarships will cover 50% of the cost of flight training, including ground school, flight hours, and exams to the level of Solo Flight for the successful candidates, one each in Victoria and Western Australia. The recipients will gain hands-on Electric Aviation experience by flying with experienced Electro pilot instructors at flight schools that utilise FlyOnE's electric aircraft fleet. The scholarships will be available to women of all ages and backgrounds, with no prior flight experience required. FlyOnE hopes that this initiative will encourage more women to consider a career in aviation and break the stereotypes surrounding the industry.

FlyOnE's CEO and founder, Korum E, stated, "We are excited to launch this program and provide women with the opportunity to pursue their passion for flying. We believe that diversity in the aviation industry is crucial for its growth and success. By offering these scholarships, we hope to inspire and empower more women to join the aviation community and contribute to the industry's advancement."

Applications for the pilot training scholarships will open on Monday the 19th of August 2024, and interested candidates can apply through the Women in Aviation website. FlyOnE is committed to making a positive impact in the aviation industry on many fronts and hopes that this initiative will be a step towards a more inclusive and diverse future. For more information about FlyOnE and its sustainability efforts, please visit www.flyone.com.au

The future is electric
FlyOnE Sustainable Aviation
+61 2 9000 1167

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Facebook

X

Inspiring women to pursue a career in aviation

More women are choosing to fly electric for a more future-focused Pilot training journey

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/730948836>

Twitter
Instagram
YouTube

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2024 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.