The Summit promises to be an unparalleled learning experience, offering invaluable insights from speakers and keynote representatives hailing from renowned organizations such as Sanofi, AstraZeneca, Bayer, Merck, Johnson & Johnson, Nagarro, Deloitte, Eversana, Segmed, Curimeta, Graticule, and many more.

"This summit is an incredible opportunity to explore the latest trends and advancements in Real-World Evidence," says Dr. Purav Gandhi, CEO & Founder at Healthark Insights. "From seasoned professionals seeking to refine their strategies to newcomers eager to explore the field, this event provides a unique platform to learn from the best, network with peers, and dive in the evolving world of RWE."

Comprising of a diverse array of themes, the summit incorporates four globally-focused tracks: Patients, Changing Markets, Advanced Data Source, Clinical Trials, and two regionally-targeted tracks: KSA Health System and UAE Health System, that address the unique healthcare landscape of the Middle East.

RWEsearch Summit 2024 extends beyond traditional learning sessions; startups will pitch their innovative ideas and demonstrate their products to a live audience, experts in the field will lead panel discussions on critical RWE subjects, and participants will put their knowledge to test in an interactive quiz competition with their fellow attendees.
