AlmaLinux's Jonathan Wright To Speak at Flock to Fedora

FORT MYERS, FLA., USA, July 31, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The AlmaLinux OS Foundation, a nonprofit that stewards AlmaLinux, the free and community-governed open source enterprise Linux distribution, today announced that Jonathan Wright, the infrastructure team lead for AlmaLinux, is scheduled to speak at this year's Flock to Fedora event.

AlmaLinux

Slated to present at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, August 7 at the Hyatt Regency Rochester in Rochester, New York, Wright will offer his session titled, "From Zero to Everywhere: AlmaLinux's High-Speed Mirrorlist Evolution." He is set to outline the short but transformative history of the AlmaLinux Mirrorlist system, outlining AlmaLinux's fast-paced growth and how the organization consistently and efficiently distributes new content to its more than 400 global mirrors.

"As an active contributor to open source and long-time builder of web hosting infrastructures, I see Flock to Fedora as a great opportunity to share the successes we've experienced at AlmaLinux as well as the hurdles that we identified and overcame to provide a stellar user experience," Wright said. "I look forward to an engaging session as we dive into open source content distribution."
