About Centering Pregnancy:

Centering Pregnancy is an innovative group prenatal care model developed by the Centering Healthcare Institute. It brings together women with similar due dates in a comfortable group setting, offering them a unique opportunity to share their experiences and learn from one another. This program has numerous benefits, including reducing the risk of preterm births, lowering stress among participants, and increasing breastfeeding rates. Many participants form lasting friendships that continue into parenthood.

"A Woman's Place is excited to offer this new program to our community. Its about empowering women with more choice around their pregnancy and transforming their prenatal experience," says Dr. Holly Miller.

-Start Time: Sessions begin around 16 weeks of pregnancy.

-Group Size: Groups include 8-12 participants.

-Session Length: Each visit lasts between 1.5 to 2 hours, providing significantly more time with healthcare providers compared to traditional prenatal visits.

-Insurance Coverage: Centering Pregnancy is covered by insurance and incurs no additional cost.

-Facilitators: Sessions are facilitated by Jessica Fuentes, CNM, and Lori Votapek, APRN, with OB Physicians also meeting all participants.

-Comprehensive Care: Each visit includes traditional prenatal care along with education on nutrition, common discomforts, stress management, labor and delivery, breastfeeding, infant care, and community resources.

The first group to start the Centering Pregnancy program will have due dates around the end of January to early February 2025. Providers will discuss this option with patients during early prenatal visits.
