RIYADH, SAUDI ARABIA, August 4, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Saudi Arabia will Organize the Global CSR Forum 2024 in October 28-29 in Riyadh. Organized by the Ministry of Human Resources and Social Development, under the patronage of King Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, this two-day event will bring together leading sector voices to discuss innovative solutions for corporate social responsibility (CSR).The forum is of importance to Saudi Arabia as it looks to solidify its leadership in the field and pursue the ambitious objectives of the Kingdom's transformation program, Vision 2030.

Through this forum, The Ministry of Human Resources and Social Development seeks to empower private sector decision-makers, government representatives, development organizations, and experts in social responsibility and sustainability. The event provides a platform for dialogue, addressing challenges, exploring development opportunities, and encouraging innovation. It aims to shape the future of social responsibility on a global scale, stimulate excellence and competitiveness among participants, and foster partnerships across the public, private, and non-profit sectors. Moreover, the forum will open doors for international collaborations in this crucial field.

The 2024 Global CSR Forum stands as the premier assembly for business leaders and CEOs from private sector companies and institutions. This event will spotlight their social responsibilities, achievements, and strategies for economic growth, societal well-being, and environmental protection. The forum provides a valuable opportunity for stakeholders to connect, share remarkable experiences, and discuss success stories through engaging panel discussions, interactive workshops, and an accompanying exhibition.
