Here Dr. Simon Ourian highlights the growing attraction of non-invasive facelifts that utilize advanced techniques like laser resurfacing, ultrasound therapy, and dermal fillers. These technique dependent procedures offer numerous advantages such as:

- Minimal Downtime: After procedures, most patients normally can proceed with their daily routines and activities. Most common being traveling, working out, sauna and more.

- Low-Risk: Procedural methods can carry a lower risk of complications versus a surgical method. Going under the knife is one of the most common concerns and fears for patients interested in aesthetic treatment.

- Cost-Effective: Being modestly priced compared to full-on surgical methods, non-invasive treatments reach a broader range of patients interested in aesthetic treatments.
- Natural Results: Techniques like Ultherapy and dermal fillers provide a more subtle & natural looking facelift without any incisions.

Surgical Facelifts: The Traditional Gold Standard

Despite the increasing trend of non-invasive facelifts, Dr. Simon Ourian does acknowledge the lasting effectiveness of a surgical face lift for specific patients.

- Dramatic Results: A surgical facelift can achieve a fuller and long-lasting revisions, especially patients with advance signs of aging.
- Comprehensive Rejuvenation: This method can tackle the underlying structural issues to provide a more comprehensive facial rejuvenation for those wanting a full-on surgical facelift.
- Longevity: Results of surgery usually last longer resulting in reduction of the need for frequent touch-ups if treatment is done non-invasive.
