Hansen said that he ‘wanted a project that would showcase not just the restaurants, but the people behind them’. This includes great stories about the favourite haunts, dishes and recipes, as well as inside tips from the industry stalwarts, such as Les Bistronomes Clement Chauvin’s guide to where to eat breakfast, lunch and dinner in Lyon, or Raku owner Hao Chen’s favourite Michelin star experience in Tokyo.

The book also documents the history of Canberra restaurants and personalities, dating back to the 1920s. Launching in mid-September, it will include the Chefs Eat Canberra Food Photography Prize - $6000 worth of dinner vouchers up for grabs from the restaurants featured in the book.

The book is available now for $59 on pre-order through the website and can be delivered anywhere in Australia.
