The Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation (MSHEF) announced today that their grant application portal for the 2024-2025 school year is now open for educator applications until October 20, 2024.

Live every day with love, not hate and you will accomplish so much more in life.”

Mark Schonwetter, Holocaust Survivor

Founded in 2019 by Holocaust survivor Mark Schonwetter and his daughters, Ann Arnold and Isabella Fiske, the Foundation aims to teach anti-hate initiatives, respect, and kindness to students through Holocaust education by funding grants for teachers to purchase educational materials and programming, subsidize field trips to Holocaust museums, and bring Holocaust survivor speakers into schools and classrooms. The amount awarded each year has continued to rise, with almost $100,000 in the most recent year, impacting over 40,000 students at 135 schools in 23 states, nationwide.

As one 2023 grant recipient attested, “The grant helped subsidize the cost of travel to the Holocaust Museum. My students profoundly benefited from this impactful experience. Overall, the visit emphasized to my students the need for empathy and a commitment to justice and humanity, underscoring the necessity of such educational experiences in cultivating informed and compassionate individuals.”

As part of the grant application process, the Mark Schonwetter Holocaust Education Foundation will host its Third Annual Teacher Resources Webinar on August 27, 2024, at 6:30 PM EST. It provides an opportunity for teachers to learn about available Holocaust-related resources, and try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome.
