About Tír na nÓg:

Inspired by the rich tapestry of Irish Celtic mythology, Tír na nÓg puts players in the role of storytellers traveling to the Otherworld in hopes of returning with the greatest tales of all.

Designed by Isaac Shalev and Jason Slingerland, art by Marlies Barends and Brigette Indelicato, and cultural consulting by Nick Ferris, the game offers a unique blend of strategic planning and thematic resonance that captivate players with its innovative mechanics, strategic depth, and immersive lore as players discover ways to craft their tales through drafting and tableau-building.

New Expansion Modules:

In response to the incredible demand and player feedback, Grand Gamers Guild has developed a new expansion containing six modules for Tír na nÓg that enhance the elegant gameplay that has already appealed to so many fans. This expansion enriches the base game with additional layers of strategy and new ways to score, providing players with even more ways to explore and enjoy the game.

Bonus Game - "Journey to Tír na nÓg":

As a special treat for fans, the Kickstarter will also offer fans a chance to pledge for Journey to Tír na nÓg, an 18-card escape room-style game designed by Ken Franklin and developed by Holiday Hijinks designer Jonathan Chaffer. It challenges players to solve puzzles and unravel mysteries as they venture through the land of mythical creatures. This compact and engaging game offers a perfect complement to the main game, providing a puzzling and thrilling experience that can be enjoyed by new and returning players alike. And, just like other games in the Holiday Hijinks line, they are uniquely non-destructible adventures that can be passed on for others to enjoy.
