

The Center for Intentional Health in OP, KS Now Offers NAD+ ION Layer: A Revolutionary Approach to Boost NAD+ Levels*

*Enhance Metabolism, Cellular Repair, and Organ Function by Boosting NAD+ Levels

OVERLAND PARK, KS, US, August 17, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Center for Intentional Health proudly announces the introduction of NAD ION Layer, a non-invasive method to increase the bioavailability of NAD+ in the body. This innovative approach addresses the limitations of traditional NAD+ delivery methods, providing an effective, convenient, and affordable solution for those seeking enhanced health and well-being through both functional medicine and integrative therapies.*

Understanding NAD+ and Its Importance

NAD+, or nicotinamide adenine dinucleotide, is a crucial coenzyme involved in over 500 biological processes, including metabolism, energy production, cellular and DNA repair, and organ function. As we age, the body's natural production of NAD+ decreases, leading to various health challenges. Increasing NAD+ levels is proven to improve energy production, reduce inflammation, extend lifespan, and positively impact nearly every organ system.

Challenges with Traditional NAD+ Supplements

Many people turn to NAD+ supplements in the form of creams, gels, pills, sublinguals, injections, and IV drips. However, research shows that these methods often yield no significant results, with any perceived benefits likely attributable to a placebo effect. IV drips, while more effective, are costly (ranging from $700 to $1,400 per session) and inconvenient, requiring multiple clinic visits and lengthy administration times. Additionally, IV administration of NAD+ delivery can cause severe side effects such as stomach pain, nausea, vomiting, and heart palpitations.

The Center for Intentional Health now offers NAD ION Layer, which utilizes iontophoresis transdermal patches to deliver NAD+ directly into the bloodstream. This non-invasive process ensures the highest bioavailability of NAD+ without the need for needles or clinic visits.* The patches can be used conveniently at home, reducing the risk of side effects and providing a cost-effective alternative to traditional methods.

Key Benefits of NAD ION Layer NAD+ Patches:

- Non-invasive and needle-free: Iontophoresis transdermal patches safely deliver NAD+ directly into the bloodstream over several hours without the need for injections or IV drips.
- Cost-effective: A fraction of the cost of traditional NAD+ IV therapy.
- Convenient: Use in the comfort of your home, eliminating the need for multiple clinic visits.
- Long-lasting effects: Enhanced bioavailability ensures that NAD+ is effectively utilized by the body.*
- Expert Consultation and Comprehensive Care
