

Jatheon Announces Updates to Their Cloud Archiving Product

Jatheon Technologies, a leader in data archiving solutions for regulated industries, is announcing several new features to their flagship product

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, August 9, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With the latest improvements, Jatheon Cloud offers advanced email threading capabilities, allowing users to view email threads in a consolidated and easy-to-navigate format. This enhancement is particularly beneficial for the review stage of open data requests and ediscovery, where precise and timely retrieval of information is critical.

In addition to this, Jatheon has overhauled the way highlighted terms are presented in search results. The new system is more intuitive, making it easier to spot key terms and phrases in archived data, saving time and improving search accuracy.

In response to the increasing use of Microsoft Teams and Zoom for communication, Jatheon has added support for voice message archiving. Complementing the new voice message archiving feature, the new update also includes automatic audio transcription. This feature converts voice messages into text automatically, facilitating easier search and review of voice communications.

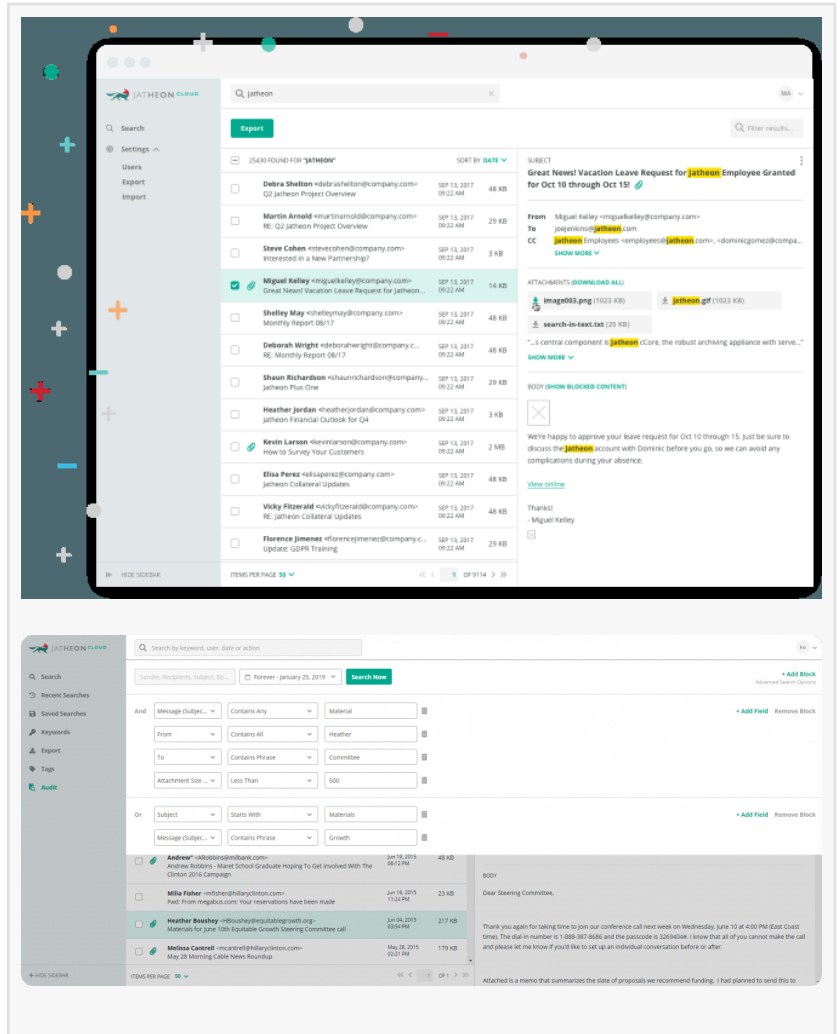

"We are thrilled to introduce these enhancements to our Jatheon Cloud platform," said Jelena Popovic, Product Owner at Jatheon. "Our goal is to continuously improve the platform to meet the changing needs of our clients. These updates show our commitment to innovation and excellence in the field of enterprise data archiving and compliance."

The updates are now live and available to all Jatheon Cloud users. Existing customers can access the new features through their current platform interface, while new customers can explore these capabilities by signing up for Jatheon Cloud .
