"The safety and security of our service members are paramount," noted Michelle Williamson, Co-Founder of ShipThrifty. "By transitioning care package requests to an online platform, we are reducing the risk of personal information exposure and creating a safer environment for our troops."

The online platform offers groups that send care packages a user-friendly interface where service members can easily specify their preferences, including desired items, special requests, and their APO, FPO or DPO shipping addresses. This detailed information allows care package senders to create personalized and thoughtful packages.

ShipThrifty is committed to fostering a strong partnership between civilians and the military. By providing a secure and efficient way to connect care package senders with service members, the company aims to strengthen the bond between the community and those who serve.

Service Members can request a care package from several ShipThrifty partners by visiting ShipToMilitary.com.
