Meeting the Diverse Needs of Corporate Clients

As the demand for corporate event photography continues to grow in Las Vegas, Christian Purdie Photography recognized the need to adapt its services to better meet the diverse needs of its clients. The new à la carte pricing structure allows businesses to select from a variety of individual services, ensuring they only pay for what they need. This approach not only enhances the value proposition for clients but also aligns with the evolving trends in event photography pricing.

The photos turned out fantastic, and the whole process was seamless. The à la carte pricing made it easy for us to stay within our budget while still getting high-quality images.”

Tara Michelson

"Las Vegas is a hub for corporate events, from large-scale conferences to intimate executive meetings, and each event has its unique requirements," said Christian Purdie, owner of Christian Purdie Photography. "By offering à la carte pricing, we're giving our clients the freedom to create a customized photography package that fits their specific needs and budget. We believe this will be a game-changer in how corporate event photography is approached in the industry."

What the New À La Carte Pricing Includes

The new event photography pricing in Las Vegas model offers a range of services that can be selected individually or combined to create a comprehensive package. These services include:

Event Coverage: Clients can choose the number of hours of photography coverage needed, ensuring they have a photographer present for the most critical parts of their event.

Photo Editing: High-quality post-processing and editing services are available as a separate option, allowing clients to enhance their images to perfection.

On-Site Editing: Clients that are looking to share to images to social media as the event is happening in real-time..

On-site Printing: For clients who want immediate access to printed photos, on-site printing can be added to their package.

Digital Gallery: An online gallery for easy access, sharing, and downloading of images can be included as part of the package.

Custom Albums: For those looking to create a lasting memory of their event, custom-designed photo albums are available as an add-on.

The introduction of à la carte pricing reflects Christian Purdie Photography's commitment to providing value-driven services while maintaining the highest standards of quality. By allowing clients to select the services that best suit their event, the company ensures that every client receives a personalized experience.
