Atma Global*

The Stevie Awards for Technology Excellence celebrate the remarkable accomplishments of individuals, teams, and organizations shaping the future of technology across all industry sectors. More than 600 nominations from organizations of all sizes in 21 nations and territories were submitted this year for consideration.

Atma’s interactive digital learning content is developed by a team of renowned global experts and has been accessed by more than three million users online and in the classroom. This unique content not found anywhere else is focused on countries, cultures, business and global topics for use by the corporate, government, travel and education markets. Atma integrates its understanding of business and social sciences methodologies to derive perspectives on the global forces shaping business, government and society.□

The company’s award-winning digital subscription service Atma Insights curates educational videos combined with Atma’s proprietary methodology including unbiased, objective and accurate analysis. Dubbed a “Netflix-style solution” for learning, the online platform offers users access to videos on key international business topics to help them understand how culture impacts a range of business practices and management functions, including communicating, managing and negotiating across borders.

“We are incredibly honored to receive a Bronze Stevie for the Company of the Year award in Educational Technology,” said Sanjyot P. Dunung, CEO, Atma Global. “This recognition is a testament to the dedication, talent and unwavering support of our international team. Atma will never stop innovating and developing easily accessible global learning content to help ensure our customers in multiple industries stay well informed on key international business topics that could expand their learning resources and affect their strategic plans and operational outcomes.”

“We congratulate all of the winners in the inaugural edition of the Stevie Awards for Technology Excellence for their outstanding performance, and we look forward to celebrating their achievements on September 16,” said Stevies president Maggie Miller.
