Atelier is thrilled to announce its participation in the highly anticipated Spring/Summer 2025 Milan Fashion Showcase, organized by Global Fashion Collective, with the event tentatively scheduled to take place on September 20th, 2024. This showcase marks a pivotal moment for the brand, offering a platform to introduce its latest collection to an international audience in one of the world’s most revered fashion capitals.

Milan, with its rich legacy in high dressmaking and innovative fashion, provides an exceptional backdrop for Tess Mann Atelier’s presentation. The city’s unique blend of classic elegance and forward-thinking design perfectly complements the brand’s commitment to timeless yet contemporary style.

Tess Mann Atelier’s Dedication to Sustainable Fashion:

“I have always been passionate about creating clothing that lasts, inspired by my childhood experiences with durable, well-crafted garments,” shares Tess Mann. “Our newest collection continues this tradition, marrying exquisite design with sustainable practices to offer pieces that are both beautiful and enduring.”

The Spring/Summer 2025 collection from Tess Mann Atelier includes a diverse range of designs, featuring evening wear, cocktail attire, resort and cruise collections, bespoke wardrobe pieces, and select bridal creations. Each item is crafted with premium, sustainably sourced materials such as silk, chiffon, and jacquard, reflecting the brand’s commitment to reducing environmental impact.

Promoting Longevity in Fashion:

Tess Mann Atelier's philosophy of slow fashion is deeply intertwined with Tess's personal and professional journey. Growing up during challenging times, Tess learned the value of well-made clothing and the importance of recycling and repurposing. This ethos is at the heart of the brand's current practices, including the use of dead stock materials and carefully selected natural fabrics.

"Our garments are designed to endure, produced in limited quantities to prevent waste, and are meant to be cherished as timeless wardrobe staples," Tess explains.

The Milan showcase is part of a global series organized by Global Fashion Collective, an extension of Vancouver Fashion Week. Since its inception in 2017, GFC has been instrumental in promoting emerging talent and expanding brand visibility across major fashion hubs.
