Graboyes Window & Door, a third-generation family business, is marking its 75th year by giving back to the local community in gratitude for their ongoing support. Their next event, taking place on August 19th, will focus on supporting Accessible Education teachers within the Norristown Area School District. On that day, Graboyes team members Noah Herman and Samantha Kuhl will deliver 95 backpacks filled with essential school supplies to these teachers throughout the district. This initiative stems from a strong desire to directly support local educators in the community.

Graboyes Window & Door celebrates their 75th anniversary

"We wanted to find a meaningful way to give back to our local teachers, so we reached out to the Norristown Area School District and asked them to connect us with teachers who could benefit most from our support," said Jon Graboyes. "The teachers provided us with a list of school supplies that would be most helpful for the upcoming school year, and we are excited to fulfill their requests and personally deliver these backpacks."

The backpacks are being prepared and will be ready for delivery on August 19th across the district.

Graboyes Window & Door is honored to play a role in supporting local educators and looks forward to continuing its tradition of community engagement as part of its 75th-anniversary celebration.
