detection security lighting. Designed for both residential and commercial use, this military-grade motion sensor outdoor flood light features cutting-edge technology and unparalleled durability to deter even the most determined intruders.

The OnGARD STARTLE™ motion sensor flood light's groundbreaking design and high-intensity LED bulbs provide a powerful and effective way to protect homes and businesses from intruders. Ideal for office parks, law enforcement agencies, backyards, entrances, driveways, and more, this LED motion sensor outdoor flood light creates a blindingly bright light that startles and intimidates trespassers.

Jordan Frankel, known worldwide as the Security Sensei and founder of Global Security Experts, explains, "Leaving outdoor lights on all night is a big security mistake. It gives intruders a clear path to vulnerable points like windows and doors. The STARTLE™ motion-detection security light addresses this issue by only illuminating when motion is detected, giving residents a significant security advantage."

The OnGARD STARTLE™ outdoor flood light with motion sensor offers a robust solution for enhancing lighting for security at homes, businesses, schools, government facilities, and military installations. Its design ensures that it can withstand extreme conditions, including adverse weather and even small-caliber bullets.

The OnGARD STARTLE™ motion-sensing flood light doesn't just enhance security—it also saves money and protects the environment. The ultra-bright LED security light bulbs produce 700 watts of intense brightness while using only 160 watts of power. This efficiency reduces energy consumption by up to 75% compared to standard outdoor lighting.
