Rising Incidence of Diabetes Drives Market Growth

One of the primary factors fueling the growth of the myocardial ischemia market is the increasing incidence of diabetes. Diabetes, characterized by the body's inability to produce or effectively use insulin, significantly raises the risk of myocardial ischemia. The prevalence of diabetes is escalating due to factors such as obesity, lack of physical activity, and genetic predispositions. According to the International Diabetes Federation (IDF), the number of adults aged 20–79 living with diabetes globally was approximately 537 million in 2021. This figure is expected to rise to 643 million by 2030 and 783 million by 2045. The growing prevalence of diabetes is anticipated to boost demand for myocardial ischemia diagnostic and therapeutic solutions.
