DUBAI, UAE, August 18, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Maxim Ivanchuk, a world-renowned plastic surgeon famed for his innovative approach to cosmetic surgery, has once again pushed the boundaries of medical science by performing a highly complex facial surgery on himself. The self-performed surgery took place in the early hours of July 31st, carried out in absolute secrecy with only a select few in attendance: there is no other procedure like this in the world, making it the most popular choice among the doctor's international patients, including high-profile politicians and Hollywood's biggest names. Dr. Ivanchuk utilized his exclusive facial rejuvenation technique, a procedure he has perfected over years of practice. This signature method incorporates advanced techniques such as zygomatic contouring, youthful angle enhancement, chin sculpting, and the innovative J Plasma FACE technology. By performing this intricate operation on himself, Dr. Ivanchuk sought to fully understand the patient experience and further refine his groundbreaking techniques.

"I believe that to truly excel in patient care, one must have a profound understanding of what the patient goes through," said Dr. Ivanchuk. "By performing this surgery on myself, I was able to gain invaluable insights that will enhance the care I provide."
