

Nova Pilot by Arvin Maleki Wins Silver in A' Interface Awards

*Innovative Automotive HMI Design
Recognized for Excellence in Interface, Interaction, and User Experience*

COMO, CO, ITALY, August 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly prestigious award in the field of interface design, has announced Arvin Maleki as a winner in the Interface, Interaction and User Experience Design category for his exceptional work titled Nova Pilot. This recognition positions Nova Pilot as a standout design that exemplifies innovation and excellence within the interface design industry.

Nova Pilot's success at the A' Interface Awards holds significance for the automotive industry and its customers. By showcasing a design that prioritizes user experience, intuitive interaction, and aesthetic appeal, this award-winning HMI sets a new standard for vehicle interfaces. It demonstrates the potential for enhancing the driving experience through thoughtful design and advanced technology, ultimately benefiting both drivers and passengers.

Nova Pilot distinguishes itself through its creative integration of a steering wheel monitor and a central dashboard display. The steering wheel monitor provides essential data such as speed, navigation, and tire pressure in a visually appealing and easily accessible format. The central dashboard display offers an immersive interactive experience, with quick access to settings, contacts, music, and a captivating visual of a car amidst mountains under the aurora. This unique combination of functionality and aesthetics sets Nova Pilot apart in the market.

The recognition bestowed upon Nova Pilot by the A' Interface Awards serves as a catalyst for future innovation within Arvin Maleki's design practice. This achievement validates the designer's approach to creating interfaces that prioritize user needs and experiences while pushing the boundaries of visual appeal. It motivates the design team to continue exploring new possibilities in automotive HMI design, potentially influencing industry trends and standards.

Nova Pilot
