

BioCareSD Announces Limited Distribution Partnership with GCBioPharma for ALYGLO®

TEMPE, ARIZONA, UNITED STATES, August 19, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BioCareSD, a leading specialty distributor for orphan, rare, and ultra-rare diseases, is excited to announce its new limited distribution partnership with GCBioPharma for ALYGLO®

(immune globulin intravenous, human-stwk). ALYGLO® is a 10% immune globulin liquid for intravenous injection, indicated for the treatment of primary humoral immunodeficiency (PI) in adults.

This partnership underscores BioCareSD's commitment to delivering vital therapies through its high-touch service model, which ensures that customers receive the personalized support they need to focus on patient outcomes.

"We are thrilled to partner with GCBioPharma as a Limited Distributor for ALYGLO®," said Jeff Beck, Chief Development Officer with BioCareSD. "Our goal is to provide exceptional service that allows our customers to concentrate on what matters most—improving patient outcomes. This collaboration reflects our dedication to supporting patients with rare and complex conditions through our comprehensive distribution network."

FDA-approved ALYGLO®, treats patients with primary humoral immunodeficiency (PI), a group of disorders characterized by an impaired ability to produce antibodies. Patients with this rare disease are more susceptible to infection such as bacterial infections affecting the gastrointestinal and respiratory tracts. ALYGLO® works to treat PI by boosting the immune system.
