Online shoppers often face challenges like difficult-to-navigate search functionalities, complex checkout processes, and irrelevant product recommendations. Genie, the AI voice assistant developed by Genies Orchestra, is designed to address these challenges head-on.

Genie introduces a new level of convenience by offering conversational, two-way interactions throughout the customer journey. Whether helping a customer discover the perfect product or assisting them through the checkout process, Genie simplifies each step of the transaction.

This conversational approach not only makes online shopping more accessible but also leads to a more personalized experience, tailored to each shopper's individual preferences.
