Side View Camera System Market Definition

A side view camera system, often referred to as a blind spot camera or side assist camera, is an advanced driver assistance system (ADAS) designed to enhance vehicle safety and driver awareness. These systems provide drivers with a visual representation of the areas adjacent to the vehicle, which are typically difficult to see using traditional side mirrors alone. The primary purpose of a side view camera system is to improve driving safety by reducing blind spots and providing a clearer, more comprehensive view of the vehicle's surroundings.
