LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, August 21, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ --

The global endodontics market has shown robust growth in recent years, expanding from $1.41 billion in 2023 to an anticipated $1.5 billion in 2024, at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.2%. This growth can be attributed to factors such as the prevalence of dental disorders, the rise in dental tourism, increased patient awareness and education, dental insurance coverage, and strategic collaborations and partnerships within the industry. Despite challenges, the market is projected

The endodontics market size is expected to see strong growth in the next few years. It will grow to $1.97 billion in 2028 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.0%.”

The Business Research Company to reach $1.97 billion by 2028 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.0%, driven by increasing demand for minimally invasive procedures and advancements in dental healthcare infrastructure.

Rising Prevalence of Dental Disorders Fuels Market Growth

The growing incidence of dental disorders is expected to significantly drive the endodontics market. Endodontic procedures, which focus on diagnosing and treating issues related to dental pulp, are becoming increasingly essential due to the rising number of oral health issues. According to the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO), approximately 54,540 new cases of oropharyngeal cancer were anticipated in the USA in 2023, with oral cancer cases significantly higher among men. The growing burden of these dental disorders highlights the importance of endodontic treatments and is a key driver of market growth.
