

EnGarde® Unveils the COMFORT-GEN7™: The Future of Ballistic Protection

EnGarde introduces the COMFORT-GEN7™, a next-gen ballistic panel offering superior protection, flexibility, and comfort, certified to rigorous global standards.

AMSTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS, August 22, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- EnGarde®, a global leader in advanced body armor solutions, is excited to announce the launch of the COMFORT-GEN7™, a groundbreaking new ballistic panel that builds upon the legacy of the renowned NIJ Level II COMFORT™ model. The original COMFORT™ model, known for its exceptional flexibility and comfort, has been a cornerstone of the EnGarde® product line for over a decade. The COMFORT-GEN7™ now elevates this legacy to unprecedented levels.

Our new panel meets and exceeds expectations, providing unparalleled protection and comfort. At EnGarde®, we've got your back.”

Triple-Tested for Unmatched Performance

Over the past two years, EnGarde® has been committed to developing a ballistic panel that retains the unmatched flexibility of the classic COMFORT™ model while significantly enhancing its ballistic performance—all without adding extra weight. In response to requests from our German customers, we aimed to certify this next-generation panel according to the stringent German SK1 standard.

We are proud to announce that the COMFORT-GEN7™ has successfully passed extensive ballistic testing and meets the rigorous standards of NIJ 0101.06 Level II, Swedish RPS 1, and German Schutzklasse 1 TR03/2008. This SK1 certification guarantees superior stopping power, including protection against contact shots, while maintaining reduced weight and exceptional flexibility.

COMFORT-GEN7™: Setting a New Standard in Ballistic Protection

The COMFORT-GEN7™ is set to become one of the premier solutions in the market, offering superior stopping power and enhanced comfort. Production of the COMFORT-GEN7™ panels is already underway, with these new panels set to replace the classic COMFORT™ panels in the coming weeks. Additionally, the next-generation panels are fully compatible with all EnGarde® carrier systems, ensuring a seamless transition for our customers.

Unwavering Confidence in Protection

“We are confident that our customers will find the COMFORT-GEN7™ to be the perfect successor to our classic COMFORT™ panel,” said Edgar Stek, Managing Partner at EnGarde®. “Our new panel meets and exceeds expectations, providing unparalleled protection and comfort. At EnGarde®, we’ve got your back.”
