Positive Customer Impact

The presence in Hampshire, Hampton, Franklin and Worcester Counties now means that one of the most populous areas needing visitation services no longer have a wait of weeks, if not months. Says Roseman, “The Toby Center brings a unique model to New England, after fifteen years of supervised visitation and child reunification services in Florida where it now services 30 counties since its establishment in 2010.”

Staff are available evenings, weekends, and holidays, and come from across disciplines, as social work, education and law and are committed to improving child outcomes when parents separate. The Regional Coordinator, Karla Quinones, brings her experience with The Toby Center in Central Florida to grow the agency’s commitment to servicing those children who will benefit from consistent, and regular access to both parents. She has found that research shows that when children and parents are permitted a professional third party who can assist a client family, children will benefit with improved attachment and bonds of love.

The effectiveness of The Toby Center’s visitation services are in both the supportive process where all parties receive direction, suggestions and guidance in family friendly locations. Importantly, too, all clients are provided objective reports which detail the nature and substance of the visit and all parties.
