

Atomatik Revolutionizes Enterprise Process Automation for the Digital Age

As the demand for intelligent automation continues to grow across industries, Atomatik is positioned to be a leader in providing cutting-edge solutions.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, August 24, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Atomatik, an intelligent automation company, is proud to announce its comprehensive enterprise process automation platform designed to free organizations from high-risk, low-return repetitive tasks. Atomatik is headquartered at 140 Broadway, New York, NY. Founded by Dmitriy Blyumin and Cristina Pene, Atomatik emerged from the founders' extensive experience in banking and automation software.

Atomatik - Secure, Intelligent Integration and Automation

Blyumin, with over two decades of expertise, co-founded Atomatik to advance process automation technology. Before Atomatik, Blyumin co-founded RightClick, a test automation software for financial services, and managed Capital Markets software at Finastra. Cristina Pene, the company's COO, brings a wealth of experience from RightClick and Finastra, where she led operations and product development, refining automation strategies.

Atomatik was developed as a direct response to the real-life automation needs (data management, data extraction) of top-tier global financial institutions. With its origins rooted in the successful automation solutions provided by RightClick Solutions, Atomatik offers an industry-agnostic solution, making enterprise process automation accessible across various sectors.

The platform was launched in 2020 after years of extensive research, hands-on experience, and a deep understanding of what businesses require from automation tools. Atomatik's user-centric design is built on lessons learned from previous industry attempts, focusing on avoiding common pitfalls and delivering robust, reliable automation solutions.

Under the leadership of CEO Dmitriy Blyumin and Cristina Pene, the company's COO, Atomatik brings the next generation of process automation software to market. Blyumin's experience in co-founding RightClick, a test automation software for financial services, and managing a Capital Markets software product within Finastra, has significantly shaped the vision and functionality of Atomatik.

Clients who have integrated Atomatik into their workflows have expressed high levels of satisfaction.

- Ana Maria Comanescu "Our process involves many calculations, verifications, reading and inserting data in different systems & applications, leaving room for human errors. By automating these processes, Atomatik helped us eliminate data processing errors, ensure consistency and that the different systems are in sync. The support and guidance provided by the Atomatik team have been valuable in operating the digital workers and ensuring a smooth workflow."

- Luke Borg Costanzi "Atomatik is a very powerful and innovative tool: bringing the power of Digitalization and
