

Verge Mobile Celebrates Five Years of Partnership With DailyPay

Verge Mobile Aims to Enhance its Employees' Workplace Experience Through Benefits, Career Development and Employee Training

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, August 27, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Verge Mobile, a leading T-Mobile partner, celebrates five years of partnership with DailyPay – a worktech company and leading provider of earned wage access. Dedicated to providing its employees with the best workplace experience, Verge Mobile implemented DailyPay's financial wellness benefit in August 2019.

Operating over 200 T-Mobile locations across the continental United States, Verge Mobile attracts and invests in talent who care about improving customers' lives through technology and effective teaching. Moreover, the team enthusiastically celebrates success and works tirelessly to achieve it, delivering the best experience for thousands of its customers.

Through this partnership, Verge Mobile has been an early adopter in adding DailyPay's financial wellness benefit to its total rewards package. DailyPay has been proven to increase employee satisfaction because employees no longer need to rely on a scheduled payday. Instead, they can access their earned wages after completing each shift. The financial flexibility allows employees to pay bills, save, spend, and invest on their own schedules, and avoid using credit products, paying late fees, and overdraft fees.

"DailyPay is a valuable tool for our team members, allowing them to instantly access financial resources and wages they've earned," said Lisa Moore, Vice President of Human Resources at Verge Mobile. "We have an extremely high percentage of team members that enjoy this benefit;

it's safe, easy to access, and very user-friendly.”

A Hanover Research Study: Companies with EWA Solutions, found that 100% of retail companies offering an EWA solution today somewhat or strongly agree that providing an EWA solution is helping to attract and retain the right workforce for the future of their organization.

In addition to DailyPay, Verge Mobile offers an expansive range of employee-first benefits including medical, dental and vision insurance options, 401(k) with company match, paid time off, monthly and annual recognition contests and trips, and discounts on T-Mobile products and wireless phone service, among others.
