The fleet in Toronto features 18ft x 18ft octagon-shaped floating Palapa bars, designed to blend elements of comfort and adventure. These vessels are equipped with a Bluetooth sound system, bar stools, a flat-screen TV, a fully functioning washroom and of course a full "Tiki Bar" capable of serving up 100's of cocktails. The service accommodates a variety of events, including bachelorette parties, corporate gatherings, and more, with options ranging from 90-minute tours to full-day charters.

Toronto Palapa Tours is co-founded by Matt Slaman, the owner of Pirate Life in Toronto. Matt brings his expertise in creating fun, immersive experiences on the water. He remarks, "If you're ready to trade the pirate's life for a slice of paradise, the Palapa boats are the perfect way to set sail into summer fun!"

Co-founder Mike Karpishka explains, "The concept was developed to offer something unique to the people of Toronto, particularly in light of recent challenges. The goal was to provide a tropical experience that allows for an escape within the city itself."

Gaby Saucedo, co-founder and native of Mexico City, adds, "The Palapa is a symbol of relaxation in Mexico. The tours offer an opportunity to disconnect and enjoy the natural beauty of Toronto's waterfront from a fresh perspective."

Toronto Palapa Tours provides an experience designed to cater to diverse occasions, with customizable options available to meet specific needs. The focus remains on delivering a memorable outing in a serene setting.

Media Invitation

Media representatives and their teams are invited to experience Toronto Palapa Tours and gain firsthand insight into this unique addition to Toronto's summer activities.
