Don't miss the full interview at this link.

As a key executive at Aratum, Jackson has been instrumental in driving the company's growth and shaping its strategic vision. His leadership has been a driving force behind Aratum's success in bringing cutting-edge supply chain management solutions that utilize the latest technologies, including AI, machine learning, and IoT, to mid-markets worldwide.

Jackson's forthcoming book, "The Reaction to Inaction," encapsulates his extensive experience and forward-thinking approach to modernizing organizational practices. The book is a comprehensive guide designed to empower businesses to break free from outdated methodologies and drive a culture of innovation. Drawing from his 20-year experience, Jackson offers a transformative framework that addresses the challenges companies face today and provides actionable strategies to drive growth and operational excellence.

During the interview, Jackson discussed his inspiration for writing the book, linking it closely with his work at Aratum. He highlighted how Aratum's focus on leveraging technology to innovate and streamline supply chain management aligns with his idea of a company of the future. Aratum creates a culture of excellence and continuous improvement within all its teams.

By focusing on strategic marketing, key account management, and partner enablement, Jackson has successfully propelled Aratum through the competitive global landscape, positioning the company as a leader in supply chain management software solutions.

Aratum's innovative technologies, combined with Jackson's leadership, have made the company a pioneer in the worldwide mid-market. The company has comprehensive tools for inventory, warehouse, order, finance, and transportation management to ensure operational efficiency and control.

With the upcoming release of "The Reaction to Inaction," Jackson continues to solidify his reputation as a thought leader in the tech industry, offering valuable advice that resonates with professionals at all levels.
