PARIS, FRANCE, August 28, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prepare to embark on a profound journey of love, spirituality and self-discovery with Don Tripp's book, "The Owl of Willow Woods." ...A culmination of thirty years of divine inspiration channeled from God and Angels of the Godhead.

This captivating manuscript takes readers on a transformative in depth look into their own lives and those experiences yet to come...while unraveling the age-old mysteries of life and the universe.

Set in the enchanting backdrop of a willow forest, "The Owl of Willow Woods" follows the story of a young curious wind chime maker who encounters an extraordinary being...an owl, who it turns out is God incarnate. Over the stretch of two weeks, the boy engages in down-to-earth conversations with God, The Owl, posing questions that resonate with all people of all backgrounds and beliefs.

Through these conversations, readers of this manuscript are able to glimpse into the nature of God in all its warmth and beauty...the purpose of Life...and the inevitable ascent of our Souls. The Owl or God shares Its wisdom and perspective--which are unparalleled--on topics ranging from the outbreak of hatred and violence in our cities and neighborhoods...to the plight of the insufferable and poor...to the certainty that God is love, and that love was always meant to flow through us, freely and naturally, surely as blood courses through our veins.

One of the most compelling revelations of God, The Owl, in Tripp's book, is the fact that one soul reincarnated as various prophets throughout history...including Buddha, Muhammad, Jesus, Confucius and Lao-tzu. This revelation is evidence of the link between our many religions and ideologies, emphasizing the importance of appreciating others around the world and what they believe.

"The Owl of Willow Woods" also unveils the creative God-force within each individual, empowering us, with God's help, to heal, alter, attract, improve or manage every aspect of our lives as we strive to achieve our goals. Through the Law of Love, Karma and Cause and Effect, readers are reminded of the substantial, and sometimes miraculous, effects their own words, thoughts and prayers have in shaping and manifesting their realities--personally and collectively as well.

Sadly, during these conversations in the woods, imparting messages of hope and self-determination, The Owl or God of Willow Woods issues a plea and stark warning to humankind. As our planet faces the consequences of a destructive energy caused by global conditions and controversy. Namely, racism, warfare, poverty, corruption and greed. God, The Owl, implores us all to embrace such ideals as love, tolerance, honesty, charity, selflessness and respect, in order to ensure the survival and flourishing of both our communities and societies alike.

In a recent interview, the author stated, "The philosophy, put forth here in our book, is intended to encompass the entire Earth and embodies the aspiration for a new international order founded upon Love, Acceptance, Cooperation, Sharing, Equality and Goodwill. Its aim is to go beyond the boundaries and obstacles existing in our world today which tend to dampen and restrict morals and morale... the freedom to choose, speak out and act... the means to garner sustenance or to earn an honest decent living... and other basic needs and rights of ordinary citizens."

"Recognizing the evolution of mankind and the diversity of cultures and beliefs, God seeks to unite us under a common banner of humanity," Tripp said. "God, Allah, Brahma or whatever name you prefer, is calling on us to secure the welfare of all individuals over the interests of politics, governments, institutions and corporations."

In his interview, he concluded, "God is presented in this book in such a way, realistic and personal, like never before. It's message is aligned with those who yearn for a world free of division, suppression, indifference and strife, where consideration and empathy are highly valued...where kindness and generosity are what matter most. This philosophy, God's philosophy, celebrates the oneness of all beings, reminding us of the bond with The Supreme Being each of us shares, allowing us, if we so choose, to create a brighter future that enfolds EVERYONE, not just an elite few."
