"Since we launched our Quarterly Economic Outlook webinar series four years ago, our mission has been to foster meaningful connections with title and settlement services professionals, delivering insights that drive success," Stone said. "As we approach our third installment on September 10th, we are excited to share invaluable insights on the economy and housing market trends, empowering our attendees to make informed decisions and seize opportunities for the future."

Stone's lengthy career in real estate and related services includes C-level positions with three public companies and serving as a director on two Fortune 500 boards. His senior executive management positions include nine years as president and COO of the nation's largest title insurance company, chairman and co-CEO of a software company, and CEO of a real estate data and information company. Stone also served as vice-chairman of Metrocities Mortgage, a 2005 top-20 mortgage lender, and as chairman of The Stone Group, an Austin, Texas-based tenant-represented brokerage company. In 2013, Inman News named him one of the year's "100 Most Influential People in Real Estate" and as one of the "Top 101 Real Estate Industry Doers" in 2015 and again in 2021. Other accolades include receiving HousingWire's coveted "Vanguard Award" in 2019 and again in 2021, Progress in Lending's "Lending Luminary Award" in 2019, 2020, 2023 and 2024, Inman's "Best of Finance" award in 2023 and 2024, and October Research's annual "Leadership Award" in 2020.

Conerly has a Ph.D. in economics from Duke University and more than 30 years of experience helping companies adapt to changing economic conditions. He was formerly Senior Vice President at a major bank and held positions in economics and corporate planning at two Fortune 500 corporations. He is also an online contributor to Forbes, chairman of the board of Cascade Policy Institute, and the author of The Flexible Stance: Thriving in a Boom/Bust Economy (2016) and Businomics (2007), a book about economics for business leaders.
