

Coastal ENT Welcomes Dr. Sara Bressler, Fellowship-Trained Pediatric Otolaryngologist

NEW JERSEY, UNITED STATES,

September 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/

-- Coastal ENT is excited to announce the arrival of Dr. Sara Bressler, a fellowship-trained pediatric otolaryngologist, to our dedicated team of specialists. Dr. Bressler will be joining our practice this September and brings extensive experience and a passion for caring for young patients with ear, nose, and throat conditions.

I was drawn to Coastal ENT due to its exceptional team of fellowship-trained specialists, which rivals those found in university-based programs. I look forward to contributing to CENT's reputation.”

Dr. Sara Bressler

Dr. Bressler specializes in all aspects of pediatric otolaryngology, with particular interests in adenotonsillar disease (issues related to the tonsils and adenoids), chronic ear diseases, head and neck masses, endocrine surgery (surgery related to hormone-producing glands), nasal and sinus pathologies, and airway anomalies. Her comprehensive training, coupled with a compassionate approach to patient care, will further enhance our ability to serve the pediatric population in our community.

Dr. Bressler completed her medical degree at University of Miami Miller School of Medicine and pursued her residency in otolaryngology at Louisiana State University Health Science Center. She then completed a fellowship in pediatric otolaryngology at Children's National Medical Center, where she honed her skills in diagnosing and treating complex conditions affecting children.

At Coastal ENT, we are committed to providing compassionate and comprehensive care to the community. Dr. Bressler's arrival strengthens our ability to address a wide range of otolaryngological conditions and will help us continue to deliver exceptional service to our patients.

Dr. Bressler will begin seeing patients in September. To schedule an appointment or learn more about our pediatric services, please visit our website at <https://coastalearnoseandthroat.com> or call us at (732) 280-7855.
