

"INDIGENOUS FRONTLINES: RISING FOR CLIMATE JUSTICE", a Climate Action Salon

*Weaving Worlds and Voices of Amerikua ANNOUNCE Climate Action Salon:
awareness, action, and fundraising event
created for New York Climate Week 2024*

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA,
September 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/
-- INDIGENOUS FRONTLINES: RISING
FOR CLIMATE JUSTICE will be a one-day event on September 25th, 2024, from 6pm-Midnight, located at DCTV, 87
Lafayette ST, NY, NY, created to amplify the voices and perspectives of Indigenous activists and community leaders at the forefront of the Climate Justice Movement. This gathering will be held alongside the official 2024
Climate Week NYC programming, and it will include renowned speakers, musicians, and artists who are sounding the alarm on environmental issues and the disproportionate impacts facing frontline communities due to extractivism. Specific awareness will be raised surrounding the current topics of the Paiute / Shoshone of the USA (re: copper and lithium mining), Mapuche People of Chile (re: wind farms), and Krenak People of Brazil (re: gold mining and oil extraction).

In addition to raising awareness, this event will serve as a crucial fundraiser to support the featured Indigenous communities in their battles against these destructive extractivist-projects and their efforts to protect sacred lands, cultural heritage, and sustainable ways of life.

6PM-12AM / DCTV, 87 LAFAYETTE ST, NEW YORK, NY 10013

Blending music, art, culture, and activism, this Climate Action Salon & Fundraiser spotlights Indigenous communities on the frontlines of environmental change. As the world pivots to green energy, we explore the complex impacts on Native lands and traditions.

Tsétséhestâhese/Cheyenne Nations), NAMMY and MTV VMA winner, Supaman (Appalooke Nation), ft. DJ Element. Audio Art installation "Sons de Curam" (Sounds that heal) will feature sounds of the forests and Krenak singing, echoing the movements of the land, rivers, and the diversity of life surrounding us. Silent art auction featuring select renowned artists who touch upon topics of environmental consciousness. Keynote speakers will include: Josh Dini (Agai Dicutta, Paiute / Shoshone Tribal Member) of Prayer Horse, Shirley Krenak (Minas Gerais, Brazil) of the Shirley Krenak Institute, Lonko Clementina Lepio (Chilean Mapuche community leader), and Leonardo Cerda (Ecuadorian Kichwa Leader). Food will be provided by Food Buffalo Jump NYC, which is re-indigenizing the NYC food scene, and functional herbal zero-proof beverages will be provided by Latina-woman-owned Ambrosia Elixirs.

This is a crucial fundraiser to support the featured Indigenous communities in their battles against destructive extractivism projects and their efforts to protect sacred lands, cultural heritage, and sustainable ways of life.

This Climate Action Salon & Fundraiser is for the Indigenous voice to be heard among leading policy makers, and environmentalists during this critical week that helps to decide the future of our planet.

INDIGENOUS FRONTLINES

How are we going to look the public in the face and say this is a green technology when it requires so much destruction of Mother Earth?"
