Growing Food and Drink Supplements Fuels Prebiotic Ingredients Market Growth
The surge in demand for food and drink supplements is significantly propelling the growth of the prebiotic ingredients market. These supplements, concentrated sources of nutrients with nutritional or physiological effects, include prebiotic ingredients essential for digestive health. According to a 2021 Health of the Nation survey by the World Health Organization, over 71% of adults use food supplements, with the pandemic driving this trend. Additionally, the rising demand for nutraceutical products, which provide health benefits beyond basic nutrition, is boosting market growth. The Indian nutraceutical market, for example, is expected to grow from $4 billion in 2020 to $18 billion by 2025, reflecting a more than fourfold increase in just five years.
