COMO, CO, ITALY, September 3, 2024 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, a highly respected international design competition, has announced Luxury Stone 2.0 by Wanyi Wang, Bo Li and Zhenlian Zou as the Silver winner in the Building Materials and Construction Components Design category. This prestigious recognition highlights the significance of the design within the building components industry, positioning it as a notable achievement in the field.

Luxury Stone 2.0 addresses current trends and needs within the building components industry by exploring sensory boundaries and creating a natural home decoration experience. The design aligns with the growing demand for high-quality, aesthetically pleasing, and functional building materials that enhance user comfort and well-being. Its innovative features and benefits make it a valuable addition to the industry, setting new standards for ceramic slab design.

The award-winning Luxury Stone 2.0 stands out in the market with its unique surface texture that offers a dual touch experience. The convex surface is warm and delicate, while the concave surface is naturally rough, creating a captivating contrast. This design encourages users to disconnect from technology, relax, and find their spiritual belonging through the comfort of touch. By combining functionality and aesthetics, Luxury Stone 2.0 offers a distinctive and innovative solution for home decoration.

Luxury Stone 2.0

The recognition of Luxury Stone 2.0 by the A' Building Materials and Construction Components Design Award serves as motivation for the Wanyi Wang, Bo Li and Zhenlian Zou team to continue pushing the boundaries of design and innovation. This achievement is expected to inspire future projects and directions within the brand, fostering further exploration and development of cutting-edge building materials and construction components.

Team Members

Luxury Stone 2.0 was designed by a talented team consisting of Wanyi Wang, Bo Li, Zhenlian Zou, and Shuai Wang. Each member contributed their expertise and skills to create this award-winning design.
